How did your school celebrate Constitution Day on November 26th? Prepare a brief report.

Answer 7: The Constitution day, also called as 'national law day', was celebrated in my school on November 26 this year. The Indian constitution was adopted on November 26, 1949, and celebrated as the 'constitution day' in Indian since 2015.

In my school, the story of the formation of the constitution was told and the lecture on the salient feature of the constitution was held by our teachers. Students were encouraged to find out details of the constitution via essay competition and prizes were distributed on the constitution day. Our seniors presented a very important issue of equality through their drama on this occasion. It was a knowledgeable and exciting day.

Question 8:

Here are different opinions about what made India a democracy. How much importance would you give to each of these factors?

(a) Democracy in India is a gift of the British rulers. We received training to work with representative legislative institutions under the British rule.

Answer: Through many good things were learned from the British rulers and democracy being one of the, I wouldn't say that democracy was gift given by them. Indians had to struggle a lot and make many sacrifices to attain freedom from British rule.

(b) Freedom Struggle challenged the colonial exploitation and denial of different freedoms to Indians. Free India could not be anything but democratic.

Answer: Freedom struggle was important in spreading the idea of nationalism in India and inculcating the practice of making decisions by consensus.

(c) We were lucky to have leaders who had democratic convictions. The denial of democracy in several other newly independent countries shows the important role of these leaders.

Answer: We were indeed lucky that we did not have leaders who were autocratic. India's freedom struggle is the only example of a bloodless freedom struggle in the contemporary history. This could be possible because our nationalist leaders had the maturity to listen to others' views.

Question 9:

Read the following extract from a conduct book for 'married women', published in 1912. 'God has made the female species delicate and fragile both physically and emotionally, pitifully incapable of self-defence. They are destined thus by God to remain in male protection – of father, husband and son – all their lives. Women should, therefore, not despair, but feel obliged that they can dedicate themselves to the service of men'. Do you think the values expressed in this para reflected the values underlying our constitution? Or does this go against the constitutional values?

Answer 9: The constitution treats every citizen equally irrespective of gender distinction. Hence this paragraph does not reflect the underlying value in our constitution.

Question 10:

Read the following statements about a constitution. Give reasons why each of these is true or not true.

- (a) The authority of the rules of the constitution is the same as that of any other law.
- (b) Constitution lays down how different organs of the government will be formed.
- (c) Rights of citizens and limits on the power of the government are laid down in the constitution.
- (d) A constitution is about institutions, not about values.

Answer 10:

- (a) This is not a true statement since the authority of the rules of the Constitution is much more than that of any other law.
- (b) This is true as the constitution lays down the framework for government formation. It defines in detail the composition and functions of different organs of government namely the executive, the judiciary and the legislature.
- (c) This is a correct statement since in our Constitution rights of citizens and limits on the power of the government have been clearly laid down.
- (d) This is not true as the Constitution holds values on which all institution work. Our preamble states about values - justice, liberty, fraternity and equality.
